

Ann McGee serves as Project Manager of McKinney Legacy Neighborhood Association, to ensure initiatives are completed on time and within budget. She is known for her collaborative leadership style, strong facilitation skills, and informed decision making. Her hands-on leadership reflect her dedication in helping MLNA neighbors remain connected and involved within McKinney's local community.

Her passion in volunteerism and community programming led her to serve as vendor manager for the McKinney RNB Festival, which is held annually, working to recruit, coordinate, and support more than 40 local artisans - creating seamless, engaging experience for attendees.
