

Rosa Maxie serves as Secretary of McKinney Legacy Neighborhood Association, promoting neighborhood unity, streamlining communication, and maintaining strong organizational structure.

She was raised in the Lewisville McKinney Legacy neighborhood, a place where community, resilience, and strong family values shaped the foundation of who she is—and she still resides in the neighborhood that shaped her early years. Growing up in an environment where neighbors looked out for one another taught her the importance of connection, compassion, and service, principles that continue to guide her life today. Rosa's educational journey began at Doty High School, shaping the foundation for her lifelong commitment to learning, community, and service.

She is a proud mother of two career United States Marines, and their dedication to service fuels her passion for serving and supporting her community. Her faith is the anchor of her life. As a devoted member of New Jerusalem Baptist Church, she is committed to serving with excellence. Faith, family, and service are more than values to her—they are the legacy she strives to live out each day.
